

PayFabric Integration Blog Template

Use this template to write your own blog to introduce and promote your new integration with PayFabric.

Title: [insert Company Name] Integrates Payment Processing into [insert your product name]

[insert Company Name] is excited to announce that we have officially integrated payment processing and accounts receivable automation capabilities into our [insert product name] platform.

We collaborated with EVO Payments, a leading payment technology and services provider, to integrate their PayFabric solution into [insert product name]. PayFabric is a secure cloud-based payment processing solution for merchants and software providers that makes it easy to accept and manage payments from anywhere.

With this latest integration, [insert product name]'s users can now securely process credit card and ACH transactions directly within [insert product name] as well as offer their customers a self-service portal where they can log in to view and pay their invoices.

[Insert quote from your executive about the integration.]

Check out our full press release here: [insert link of published press release if available]

For more information on our latest offerings with PayFabric, contact us at [insert your company contact information]